

SHADOW PROJECT, EXCERPT

BY REGINA BAKER

I have found redemption, restoration, and forgiveness in the light of the Lord. I, alone, was unable to break free from the briers, brambles, and thorns of my life. I became snared and entangled in oblivion. I was lost, hopeless, and defeated. I was unable to move, I was unable to break free. Suddenly, God was there, holding his gentle hand out to me. I felt a love so divine, so pure, that it set me free. A love that doesn't require perfection, but multiplies through my imperfections. It sparks and shines so bright for the world to see. | RB
